

Lugar Wins Nomination

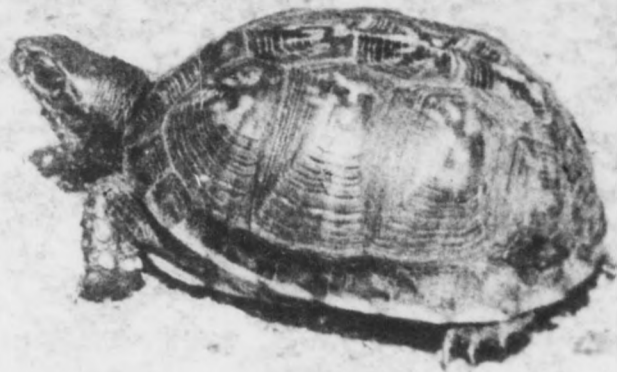

INDIANAPOLIS AP- Richard G. Lugar won his chance for national office and a shot at Democratic Sen. Birch Bayh Friday, and William L. Allen III captured the secretary of state's nomination by the slimmest margin in Indiana Republican Convention memory.

Lugar, 42, often called President Nixon's favorite mayor but more recently one of the President's Watergate critics, buried pro-Nixon Rep. Earl F. Landgrebe of Valparaiso, 1,710 to 330. The Indianapolis mayor was considered a shoo-in from the beginning and his delegate count represented 84.2 per cent.

Rep. Earl F. Landgrebe, who campaigned three weeks as a pro-Nixon U.S. Senate candidate, remained confident to the end before losing the Republican nomination Friday in a lopsided vote.

The Valparaiso businessman, who had already won the GOP nomination for his 2nd District congressional seat, said, "I had sincerely hoped to have my voice amplified 20 times over in support of the President," in a brief concession speech to newsmen.

"But I wanted to be where I could do the most good, of course, I'm disappointed." A top aide to his opponent, Indianapolis Mayor Richard G. Lugar, said moments before the nomination was decided that Landgrebe would only receive about 300 votes. The aid told The Associated Press that the Republican delegates to the convention would give the congressman enough votes so it wouldn't hurt his bid for reelection to the House.

This slow-moving character decided to check out the vibrations along Indiana 243 near Lieber State Park yesterday afternoon. The traffic wasn't bad, so it must have been the hot sun, which made temperatures climb into the high 80's, that made him change his mind about a third of the way across. When last seen he was sitting along the highway exactly where he started, just resting and watching the cars go by.

Excitement Created By Plane During Storm

Residents living near the intersection of U.S. 40 and Indiana 43 had a little extra excitement during Thursday evening's thunderstorm which caused scattered power outages in and around Putnam County.

The Indiana State Police Post at Putnamville received calls around 10:30 p.m. Thursday concerning an airplane which residents thought was attempting to land on the highway. The plane, also sighted by State Police, was hovering over the immediate area of that intersection.

State Police contacted Hulman Field in Terre Haute where officials said they had no reports of planes in distress. They then contacted Weir-Cook Airport and were told that, due to weather conditions and low visibility, many airplanes had been given directions to remain in given holding patterns.

Police said the plane was in immediate area of that intersection.

Area Farmers Reminded Of Insurance Deadline

Area farmers who are Federal Crop Insurance Corporation policyholders are reminded that the final date for reporting their acres of crops for insurance purposes is June 30. Any crops that are reported after this date and suffered previous damage could result in no insurance coverage, explains Albert Dalton, Jr., director of the contract service center, Indianapolis, Indiana.

In the five states serviced out of the Indianapolis center, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation has approximately 22,000 spring crop contracts with farmers protecting their crops against all natural hazards from planting until harvest.

Local Chairman Speaks Out On Needs Of Cystic Fibrosis Foundation

"Lung disease is a crippler. Six million American children suffer from cystic fibrosis, asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and childhood emphysema. Of these terrible diseases, cystic fibrosis is terminal," said Mrs. Joseph Litchford, chairman of this year's Community March for the Breath of Life in Greencastle.

The chairman continued, "Every parent knows about colds in the chest with coughing and wheezing for a few days. But, every parent should also know that if these signs keep up, it could be a symptom of much more serious lung problems. Any child with a lung disease needs specialized treatment. And, proper treatment can often times cure a lung disease, or at least get the problem under control."

"If symptoms such as persistent coughing, a big appetite, but little weight gain, pneumonia more than once during childhood, or a salty taste to the child's skin are overlooked, a child may not benefit from the treatment that is available."

"The National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation raises funds through volunteer efforts to control or cure for cystic fibrosis," explained Robert Sell, Indiana State Chapter President. "The Foundation also supports 100 Cystic Fibrosis Clinics in the United States, four of which are in Indiana."

Cystic Fibrosis is incurable. It damages the lungs and pancreas of its victims.

Lugar

However, only a small flock of Landgrebe supporters waved signs and tooted horns at the rear of the large hall when their candidate was nominated.

"They certainly appeared to be in favor of Mayor Lugar," Landgrebe said before ballots were cast. "He had more standing up and hollering for him, but I still want to wait for the count."

He also said he was surprised and disappointed that the convention organizers had not posted a large picture of the President at the front of the hall as had been done in years past for other presidents.

"I'm having a hard time believing they could exclude him so totally from this function," Landgrebe said. "In Indiana, where the President has been a good friend, we should talk out about our President and the great things he has done for Indiana and our party."

Shortly after the party had been announced to the convention, Landgrebe left his seat and spoke briefly with newsmen. He refused to offer his support to Lugar, saying he would have to withhold comment for the time being.

"I assure you, No. 1, that I am a Republican first of all and of course expect to talk with Mayor Lugar," the congressman said.

He immediately left the convention hall with his wife, Helen, and a few supporters and went to his hospitality suite. He then spoke with about 100 of his backers and then asked that the news media leave the room.

Porter County Republican Chairman Quentin Blachly told Landgrebe in front of his followers, "Earl, we all are your dear friends. We're here because we respect and love you."

Afterward, aides said the congressman needed to rest and would not be available for further comment.

Allen, Jeffersonville City Court judge and a two-time Republican winner in heavily Democratic Clark County, won the secretary of state race by just six votes over Michael M. Packard of Delphi. The count was 1,025 for Allen and 1,019 for Packard.

Party veterans said they couldn't recall a closer vote. In 1968, then-Lt. Gov. Robert L. Rock of Anderson won the Democratic nomination for governor by just two votes over former House Speaker Richard C. Bodine.

The vote stunned "Packard Backers" in the Indiana Convention Center. Packard, chief deputy commissioner in the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, had counted a solid 1,190 votes after district caucuses Thursday night and the general sentiment on the floor all day Friday was that he would win.

Republican National Committee L. Keith Bulen, Lugar's campaign manager, supported Allen and worked tirelessly for him on the floor, where Packard said he lost about 180 votes. Bulen told delegates Allen's southern Indiana background would add geographical balance to the ticket.

Packard could appeal the result to the Republican State Committee. However, admittedly unhappy but not bitter, he said, "I'm really very reluctant to appeal."

Gasses Talk On Caribbean Project

Dr. and Mrs. Clinton Gass will be the guests of the combined church school classes at Gobin Methodist Church Sunday, June 23, at 9:30 a.m. in Charter House. The Gasses participated in missionary projects, sponsored by the United Methodist Committee for Overseas Relief, during January of the past three years. Church laymen and DePauw University students helped the local people build a church hall, a water system, and a parsonage. The islands which have been helped thus far are Anguilla, Jamaica, and Roatan.

The church school will view and hear about the people of the islands, their interests, religion, and work. The program is designed to interest children and adults. All interested persons are invited to attend regardless of whether they are members or attendants of the Gobin church school.

According to the Jamaica Tourist Board, many items can be bought there for 60 per cent below the North American price. It says most of the big brand name china and crystal runs about half the mainland list price.

Parents demand she entertain them

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My parents live in a small apartment near us. They feel lonely and neglected, and complain constantly that friends and relatives visit them only as a duty, and not very often. They are critical and quarrelsome and have no interests beyond their aches and pains and being entertained.

I've tried to interest them in senior citizen groups, but because some of their members smoke, play cards and are Democrats, my parents couldn't mingle with them.

I visit my parents every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. I take them grocery shopping, to the doctor, and out for lunch once a week. I have them to my home for dinner every Sunday and Thursday. I even do their laundry!

The problem is, they are not satisfied, and let us know about it in no uncertain terms. We've had several heart-to-heart talks with them, but they still think we are selfish for not spending more time with them.

When I'm not with them, they phone, and if I am not home, they get furious, and I get bawled out like a child for "running around all day."

I am 57 years old, and have worked for 41 years, and I am tired of running myself ragged trying to please them. Any suggestions?

RUN RAGGED

DEAR RUN: The problem isn't THEM; it's the way you react to them. As long as you know you are doing all you can for them, there is no reason to feel guilty. None at all!

DEAR ABBY: I am a bartender in a small town and quite often a customer will say, "If anyone calls asking for me, say I'm not here. And if they ask if I've been here, say you haven't seen me."

Abby, when I lie, as I often do, it goes against my conscience, but I lie anyway because I don't know how to get around it. Is there a way I can keep from lying without losing customers?

HONEST BARTENDER

DEAR HONEST: Probably not. Bartenders, like doctors and priests, are expected to keep confidences.

DEAR ABBY: My cousin had her first baby, so the other night we went to her home to see the new baby. There were lots of other relatives there.

This cousin kept looking at her watch because she had to feed the baby at 8 p. m. She could hardly wait to unbutton her blouse right in front of everybody. Then she said, proudly, "This is the first time I've ever had such a nice breast," and without even putting a blanket or diaper or anything around the baby, she proceeded to nurse him. BOTH breasts were exposed the whole time, which was not necessary. Some of the men went into the kitchen right away, and a couple of the younger kids got so embarrassed they also left.

I know there is nothing nasty about the human body, or nursing a baby, but what do you think of a woman who would take advantage of a situation like that to show off?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Same as you. It's disgusting. I'd also feel sorry for her.

Inside Education

Summer At School

By Dr. John Coomer

The halls are dark and become musty. Students are not crowding them rushing not to be late to class. They are quiet. The ringing of bells is missing.

Classrooms are empty. Furniture is stacked to allow freshly waxed floors or newly painted walls to dry. Students are at other work or recreation. Teachers are vacationing, working at other jobs, preparing lessons for the next year. Many of them are in classrooms in other places, temporarily students instead of teachers.

Custodians are busy but in different ways. They are not sweeping floors as much, not emptying waste baskets, not cleaning chalkboards and erasers. Now they are scrubbing and waxing. They are mowing and trimming. Usually they are speckled with samples of the paint they are using to brighten up rooms and halls that have become dingy.

A few students and teachers appear from time to time. Some come for summer school classes. Some drop in for a visit. Occasional new students to the community come with parents to look over their new school and to discuss their next year's programs.

Administrators begin before the end of school one year planning for the next. New teachers must be interviewed and hired. Student requests for classes are carefully studied and the number of sections of various courses that will be offered is determined. Decisions must be made as to which teacher will teach which class and in which room. In most schools there are fewer rooms than teachers. All teachers do not have their own rooms. The chess game of assigning teachers to rooms to obtain maximum utilization must be played.

When the master schedule—what each teacher will teach, when, where, and how often—has been determined each student must be scheduled. The student is assigned to a section of each of the five or six classes he has requested. There are invariable conflicts. Some classes are offered only once during the day and frequently the student has requested several that are all given at the same time.

Large numbers of conflicts in the schedule require changes in the master schedule. One change in this mosaic creates havoc and necessitates change of many individual student schedules. Often it creates new conflicts.

Students enrolled in each class must be counted. Then students must be shifted to try to maintain a balance or fairly equal number of students in each section of the same subject. When scheduling is finalized individual schedules must be copied to hand to the students on the first day of school and lists of students in each class are compiled for teachers.

Bills are paid. New books arrive and are processed. Lockers are cleaned, repaired, and combinations are changed.

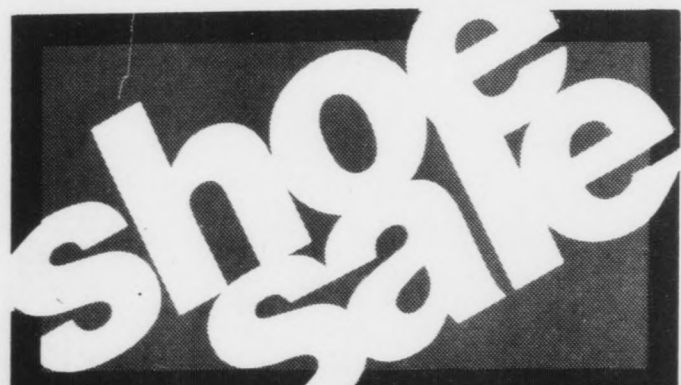

Summer in a secondary school is much different from the other nine months. Time goes by rapidly. There is much to be done. While there are often some doubts toward the end, everything is always ready as those students so anxious to leave in May, anxiously return in September.

Cloverdale IGA Wins First

Cloverdale IGA broke in to the win column of the 12" Softball League in Greencastle Thursday night before the winds and rain combined to suspend the second game of a scheduled doubleheader. IGA broke open a 3-3 tie with Brackney's and Castle Implements with a two run fifth inning, added four more in the seventh, and then held on in the face of an eleventh hour Brackney's rally to claim a 9-6 victory.

Mike Comer got the win on the mound for IGA, but needed help in the seventh from Norman Hoffa after Tim Lear had brought Brackney's back into the game with a two-run home run.

It was the second hit of the game for Lear, who was joined in the two hit category by teammates Bill Chester, Darrel Brackney, and David Evans.

Rick Ford led the IGA offense with a pair of hits, the first a second inning round tripper that broke the ice against losing hurler Bob Pettit.

Bill Steele added a single and double to the 12 hit IGA attack, while Charles Alex chipped in with a triple.

In the second game of the evening, Torr's-Walton had Pizza Hut hanging on the ropes in the bottom of the fourth inning when gusty winds and threatening skies forced suspension of the contest until the two teams get together again.

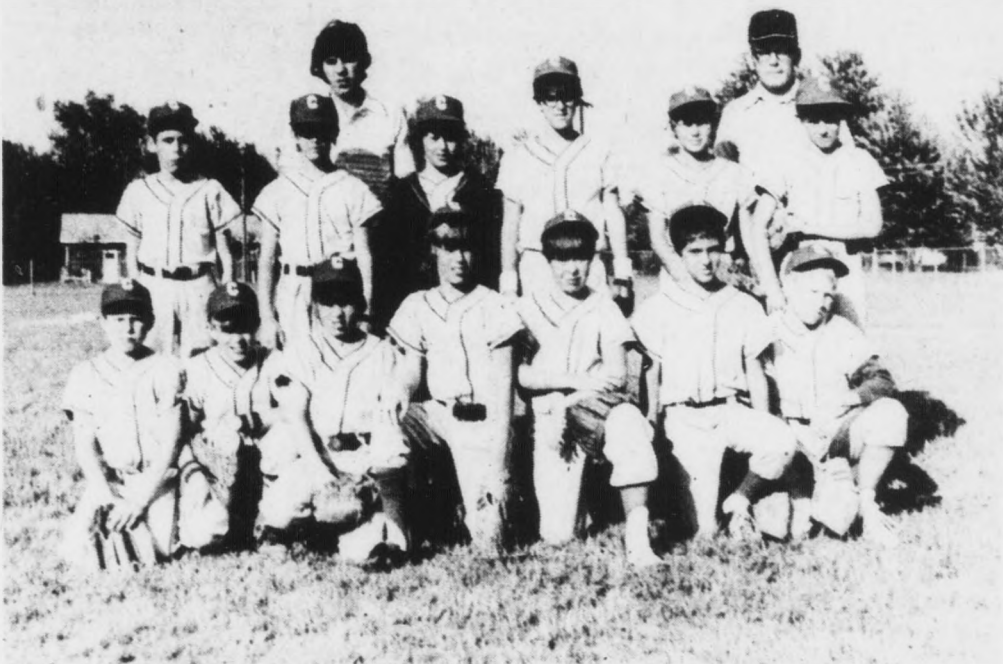

Torr's had a 3-0 lead with two men on base and nobody out when the game was halted.

Sunday brings with it a full slate for the softball league at Robe Ann Park, with three games scheduled beginning at 12:30 p.m.

In the opener, Brackney's, now 1-2, tackles yet undefeated Putnam Inn (3-0). Then Pizza Hut (1-2) will take on Livestock (2-1), to be followed by Cloverdale IGA (1-3) vs. Torr's-Walton (1-1).

State Baseball Finals Today

LAFAYETTE Ind. (AP) — Pitching will be the key Saturday when a new champion emerges from the eighth annual Indiana high school baseball tournament.

Indianapolis Marshall and South Bend Bluffton will open the finals at 11 a.m. in Loeb Stadium. Terre Haute North and Evansville Memorial will follow at about 1 p.m. The winners will meet in the championship game at 8 p.m.

Marshall's Patriots lost six of their first eight games this season, but are 21-4 since then and 23-10 overall. They are led by left-handed pitcher John Crabtree.

The senior fireballer is 13-3 for the season, with a 0.46 earned run average and 183 strikeouts in 114 innings. He was a 24th round draft choice of the Detroit Tigers.

If all goes the way Marshall Coach Clark Froning likes, he'll let Crabtree go all seven innings in the opener, start Doug Wampler in the championship game and bring Crabtree in for the final three innings of that game.

Froning calls that his "10-4" formula. The IHSAA limits prep pitchers to 10 innings in any three days. The Marshall coach sticks to his formula. He brought Crabtree in with Wampler pitching a shutout Saturday against Richmond in the Richmond semistate championship game.

The Patriots are led in the batting department by junior first baseman Joe Hicks at .380 and senior third baseman Rocky Clements at .285 and 31 runs batted in.

Memorial, 21-5, is making its second appearance in the state finals. The Tigers lost 2-1 to South Bend Clay in the 1970 championship game.

Left-hander Andy Rice, 10-2, and right-hander Dan Henning, 7-3, have been towers of strength for Memorial. And, in each of the last three games, they've had 12-hit support. Rice has fired a no-hitter, one-hitter and two-hitter in his last three starts.

Memorial is one of the youngest teams ever in the state finals, with two sophomores and four juniors in its starting lineup. The top hitters are junior centerfielder Jim Nalley and sophomore rightfielder Tom Fehn, both .300-plus batters.

Terre Haute North, also known as the Patriots, was ranked third in the final Indiana High School Baseball Coaches Association poll this season and has a 23-2 record.

North will be returning to Loeb Stadium one week after winning the Lafayette semistate on the same turf, and the Patriots will be headed by a pair of undefeated pitchers.

Tim Mundy, who doubles as a solid-hitting first baseman, is 10-0 for the season, while Nate Mills is 9-0 on the mound and also a hard-hitting centerfielder. Both pitchers get plenty of help from one of the best defensive clubs in the state.

All-Star Moore Profile

Eighth in a series of profiles on The Indiana High School All-Star Basketball players.

"It isn't easy for a small guy like myself to land a lot of college bids. I was kind of disappointed that some of the bigger schools like I. U. didn't recruit me, but I'll make it regardless. That's the kind of guy I am."

Based upon his past performance, Hammond High School's six-foot 180 lb. forward sharp-shooter Larry Moore should have no trouble at all.

Moore, who has signed with North Dakota State University, has been Hammond's leading scorer for the past four years. Larry averaged 18 points per game during the last season with a single game high of 32. He shot .459 from the floor with a 77 per cent free-throw average.

"He's probably one of the most sincere, dedicated kids I've coached in the past 25 years," said Richard Barr, Hammond's head mentor. "He's a fine ball handler, feeder and prolific scorer. He's a total basketball player—outstanding in every sense of the word."

Although Moore describes himself as kind of a loner, he's well-liked and respected by students and teachers alike according to his coach. "Larry has always displayed leadership through example," Barr explained. "He was always willing to do more than his part and he'll be greatly missed."

Larry prefers man-to-man defense tactics and "close games where the crowd's on your back." A major disappointment for him occurred this year when Hammond didn't make it out of the regionals. "We were the better team," he quipped,

"and that hurts!"

Named the team's most valuable player for three consecutive years, Moore credited his coaches with his basketball success. "Every one of the coaches I've had through school has helped me tremendously," he said.

Oscar Robertson is somewhat of a sports hero to Larry. "He's the first basketball player I ever really read about when I was little. I guess I've tried to pattern myself after him."

Eighteen-year-old Moore is Hammond's fourth All-Star. In addition to his hard-court talents, he was also a sprint man on the school track team and has run the 100 yard dash in 9.9 seconds.

Music, dancing, meeting people and traveling are some of Larry's favorite hobbies. He plans to tackle a double major in physical education and business at college next year.

The future?

"If I don't play pro ball, I'd like to try my hand at coaching. I plan to keep playing basketball as long as I can run."

Carmel Star To DePauw

Carmel High School student-athlete Bill Caskey, Jr., has indicated he will enroll at DePauw University this fall and has been awarded an activities scholarship.

The 6-4, 185-pound Caskey is a member of the National Honor Society and was an all-sectional and all-regional in basketball for Carmel. He was the team's leading scorer with about 19 points per game and also led his squad in rebounding with 16 per game.

Caskey was a delegate to Boys State last year and is interested in studying business and economics at DePauw. "We are delighted Bill Caskey is coming to DePauw."

We expect that he will be not only an outstanding contributor to our basketball program, but he is also a fine student and outstanding citizen," DePauw basketball coach Elmer McCall said.

Caskey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Caskey, 1356 Orchard Park Drive, N., Indianapolis.

Tigers To Face Malone

DePauw University's basketball team will have the pleasure and perhaps the chagrin of playing against the nation's most sought-after high school basketball star when it faces the University of Maryland Dec. 12 at College Park.

Moses Malone, a 6-11, 210 pound high school senior who had already been drafted by the Utah Stars of the ABA, signed a grant-in-aid yesterday with University of Maryland coach Lefty Driesell.

The Associated Press said Malone's Maryland signing "ended an all-out war for his services" which had been sought by more than 300 colleges and universities.

Maryland is the third of three major basketball powers the Tigers will face during the first eight days of their 1974-75 season. After opening at Air Force Academy Dec. 4, the squad will play at the University of Illinois Dec. 7, and then go to Maryland five days later.

Carmel Classic Today

CARMEL Ind. (AP) — The featured event will be the 100-yard dash, but there will be plenty of action Saturday and Sunday in the third annual Carmel Classic Track and Field Championships.

Classic officials said more than 1,300 athletes are entered in the two-day event which includes competition for performers from junior high level to world class.

About 700 youngsters, competing in the 12-14-year-old or 15-17-year-old age groups, will be in action Saturday. Field event preliminaries are scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., with track trials at 9:30. The finals in all events will be in the afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Sunday's open division, featuring such performers as unofficial 100-yard dash world record holder Ivory Crockett, former Indiana University Big 10 dash champion Mike Goodrich and Purdue dash star Larry Burton, will begin at 2 p.m.

Crockett, whose 9.0 clocking in the 100 is pending recognition, told Classic officials earlier this week he would attend.

The Saturday competition could be marred by rain. The National Weather Service forecast calls for an 80 per cent chance of showers and thunder-showers.

Entries for the meet have been received from as far away as California and New York.

Mitchell To Louisville

LOUISVILLE Ky. (AP) — University of Louisville Basketball Coach Denny Crum announced Friday that New Albany (Ind.) High School's Charlie Mitchell has signed a national letter-of-intent to attend UL.

Mitchell, a 6-foot-10 center, averaged 17.8 points and 11 rebounds a game his senior year.

He led New Albany High to the state title in 1973.

He is academically ineligible for a scholarship his freshman year, and is also ineligible to practice and play with the team the first year.

"For someone with his physical abilities, he has exceptional speed and quickness," Crum said. "Because of his excellent outside shooting, he should play forward, but with his strength, we could use him at center if we have to."

He is a member of the Indiana All-Star team that plays the Kentucky All-Stars Saturday night.

WORRY CLINIC

By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Alpha's professor can profitably be imitated by other pragmatic educators, both in seminars and Liberal Arts colleges. For it is current problems that cause most of our unhappiness, so try to show people how to avoid divorce, timidity, unpopularity and disease!

CASE A-666: Alpha G., aged 24, is a seminary student.

"Dr. Crane," he began, "our psychology professor is a fan of yours."

"So he has suggested that I use as a thesis topic the idea of having churches conduct an annual 'Worry Clinic,' patterned after your daily psychology column."

"Therein he says we can perform group counseling and thus save many marriages that are heading toward divorce."

"In fact, we can include teen-agers and focus on the vital problems they should consider even before they enter wedlock."

"Other problems of the parent-child sort can likewise be the subjects for group discussion."

"Plus the 'Ponce de Leon Complex' which you mention as attacking many otherwise good husbands who pass the age of 40 and have stodgy wives."

"Dr. Crane, I'd like to use a dozen or more of your newspaper booklets for discussion purposes during our church 'Worry Clinic.'"

"We'll have the ladies scrapbook your column during our 12-week series of forum discussions, and thus employ the newspaper for our textbook."

"What do you think of this practical project as a thesis subject for my advanced degree?"

HORSE SENSE

Such practical projects are certainly worthy of praise. They merit duplication by other seminaries and graduate schools.

For far too many graduate theses are so farfetched and useless that they appear ridiculous to most Americans with gumption.

Imagine squandering 3 years of graduate work toward a Ph.D. and exhaustive library study on such a topic as:

The Cultural Significance of Castanets in Medieval Spain."

What bearing would the results have on modern vital problems?"

And here's another typical evidence of academic impracticality:

"The Love Life of the Gold Fish."

With the divorce rate zooming past the 30% figure and venereal disease becoming a worldwide epidemic, due to the modern sensualism Alpha's thesis topic certainly should pay far richer dividends in human happiness than 90% of the trivia now hatched up for Ph.D. thesis topics.

Seminary students should especially focus on current vital problems of their parishioners, such as:

(1) How to employ magic to zoom the interest of children in the 5-minute preliminary sermonette;

(2) How to use ventriloquy to attract attention and lampoon lazy church folks via the "dummy";

(3) How to use my H-E-L-P conversation formula to avoid letting teen-agers remain tongue-tied on a date;

(4) How to change timid or anti-social people (young and old) into attractive, gracious conversationalists via the "Compliment Club";

(5) How a coed can hold the admiration of her date without submitting to illicit sexual affairs;

(6) How to preside tactfully at a church Board Meeting and keep everybody happy;

(7) How to train parents, bosses and school teachers to employ the "Sandwich Method" for correction, without engendering hatred or ill will;

(8) How to prevent husbands from straying;

(9) How to stop bedwetting and thumb sucking;

(10) How to stimulate enthusiastic Bible reading among children.

Use the appropriate booklets offered by this newspaper for your church group "Worry Clinic" and homework projects.

Christ's Sentence Upon The Lost

Mark H. Nunley, preacher

Cloverdale Church of Christ

In Matt. 25:41 we find this sentence from the lips of Jesus that shall be delivered to the lost on the day of Judgement, "Depart from Me, ye cursed, into everlasting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels." In many places the Bible speaks of the second coming of Jesus Christ and about the day of judgement that shall take place at that time. We have many warnings to cause us to prepare ourselves for that time so that we will not be among the lost. And so we must be interested in this vital question: What must I do to be among the saved?

For the sake of clarity, we can summarize the Lord's plan of salvation into 6 steps:

First—We must hear the Gospel of Christ for the Word of God is the seed of the Kingdom that will produce faith within us, in the Lord, His Word, and His ways (Rom. 10:9-10, 17 and Luke 8:11).

Secondly—We must believe with all of our heart that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that faith must be based upon the teachings of the Bible (John 3:16 and John 1:12).

Thirdly—We must repent of every sin that we have committed (turn away from sin; Lk. 13:3 and Acts 17:30-31.)

Fourthly—We must confess our faith in Jesus as the Son of God (Acts 8:37 and Rom. 10:9-10).

Fifthly—We must be baptized in the name of the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit for the purpose of getting into Christ, being added to His church; and that our sins might be washed away by the blood of Christ (Matt. 28:18-20 and Gal. 3:26-27 and Acts 2:41, 47 and Acts 2:38 and Acts 22:16). Upon completing these 5 steps we know that we are Christians and that our past sins have been washed away by Christ's blood because that is the promise that God has given to us.

Then sixthly—As a Christian we must walk in the ways and patterns and commandments of God as they come to us through the New Testament if we want to continue to enjoy the promise of heaven because the Bible teaches that a Christian can be lost (see Lk. 9:62 and Heb. 2:1 and Rev. 3:14-18 and II Peter 2:20-22 and Rom. 11:21-22 and Matt. 13:3-9, 18-23 and II Tim. 4:10). So if we refuse to obey God to become a Christian, or, if we fall away from the Lord and do not serve Him faithfully, here is Christ's sentence:

Depart From Me. This tells us that those that are lost will be banished from the presence of God and that they'll be eternally separated from Christ. In Isaiah 59:2 we read, "But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you, that He will not hear." What a terrible thought: To be separated from and forsaken by God!

Ye Cursed. The reason that the lost are cursed in that the guilt of their sin is upon them. And the weight and guilt of our sin is a terribly heavy burden. Think of what it would be like to find ourselves cast into hell knowing that our own sins, our own free will, has sent us there. We'll not be able to walk the streets of gold and to enjoy the beauty and peace and rest that heaven holds for God's faithful.

Into Everlasting Fire. Think of what it means to live in a lake of fire and brimstone for ever and ever with no end or escape to the pain and suffering. Some people would like to rationalize that God would not really prepare such a place of punishment. But shall we believe men or shall we believe what God says? In II Thes. 1:7-9 we find these words concerning this matter, "And to you who are troubled rest with us, when the Lord, Jesus shall be revealed from heaven with His mighty angels, in flaming fire taking vengeance on them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ: Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and from the glory of His power."

Prepared For The Devil And His Angels. The Lord did not prepare hell for men and women. It was prepared for the devil and his angels. And it is not the Lord's desire that anyone should go to this place of torment. That is why the Lord God made the way of salvation possible through Jesus Christ. But when we reject the means of salvation, we send ourselves into hell. Jesus said in John 12:48, "He that rejecteth Me, and receiveth not My words, hath one that judgeth him: the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day." When we reject Christ and His Gospel, we reject our only means of salvation and therefore condemn ourselves.

I hope and pray that you will not be among the lost on the day of judgement. But if you are to be among the saved, you must faithfully obey the Lord in His Way not in man's way. We urge you then to worship God with the Church of Christ where the Bible is taught, respected, and accepted as the only religious authority, so that you might learn more of God's ways and might worship and serve Him acceptably.

A COLD IN THE SUMMER?

If you can't understand why you keep getting that summer cold, you may not have a cold at all. That bothersome runny nose may be a sign of hay fever, an allergy whose symptoms have long been confused with those of colds.

Subtle differences can tip you off. For example, if you're discharging a very watery fluid, and if the lining of your nose isn't intensely red, chances are your problem is hay fever. But if you've got that "stuffed up" feeling, your membranes are highly inflamed, and you're being plagued with a sore throat, fever, or sneezing to boot — yup, you've got it. A summer cold.

Scientists still haven't solved the mystery of the common cold. Since it can be caused by any number of viruses, no vaccine seems capable of curing it.

But one well-known physician, Dr. Morris Fishbein, offers some helpful hints on how to live most comfortably with a cold, and hasten its departure as best you can. He's put them all in an entertaining booklet called Gesundheit! written for the people who make Scotties facial tissues.

A few of Dr. Fishbein's suggestions:

1. Emphasize a well-balanced diet. It will keep you as physically fit — and keep your resistance up — as possible.
2. Sponge baths with water heated to body temperature will help circulation.
3. If breathing is difficult, inhaling steam will decongest membranes and dilate bronchial tubes. This may aid in coughing up the clogging mucus.
4. Drink lots of water — about eight glasses a day.
5. As for bed rest, that's up to you. Keep your activities to the point that feels best. After all, it's your cold — and your intuitions about it are probably the best medicine.

To read more about your cold, how it happened, and what to do about it, write to Scotties Cold Booklet, P.O. Box 9503, St. Paul, Minnesota 55195. Gesundheit! will be all yours.
